

BULGARIAN ADVANCE CHECKED, IS REPORT AT CONSTANTINOPLE

Sultan's Army Sees Victory In Face of Fierce Battle Near Line.

to be made in the map of the Balkans in the event of Turkey's defeat by the quadruple alliance, according to a report circulated here today on good authority. If it is true that the St. Petersburg and Vienna governments have reached an understanding, a long step has been taken toward insuring Europe against a spread of the Balkan struggle, since it will be with Russia and Austria that trouble will begin if outside complications do occur.

Russia was assumed to have safeguarded the allies' interests, which is to say its own, inasmuch as the Balkan states are dominated by Russian influence, and Austria, it was taken for granted, has seen to it that no insurmountable barrier was erected against its expansion to the southward. Turkey's interests, presumably, were not considered.

Attack Is Postponed.
SEMIAN, Hungary, Oct. 30.—A message from Sofia today saying the Bulgarians have postponed their attack on Adrianople until Serbian reinforcements reach them, was looked on here as clinching reports that Czar Ferdinand and his met with a check, though perhaps not with a positive reverse.

Serbian troops, it was said, are already on their way to join the Bulgarian eastern army, but it was not easy to understand how this can be accomplished without considerable difficulty and loss of time, so far as known there is no adequate Serbian force nearer to Adrianople than the one operating in the vicinity of Uskub and Irbid. The quickest way for a detachment of these troops to reach the Bulgarian right wing would be by rail from Uskub to Kumanova, and then on the Kostendile, to Sofia, and then on the Oriental railroad to Adrianople.

This journey would involve about 300 miles travel over a railroad of no primitive character that much haste is impossible because of much changing of trains and complications. Besides, it was argued here that the Turks about Uskub would immediately take the offensive against the weakened Serbian force in that vicinity and probably win back all they have lost.

Will Insist on Seaport.
PARIS, Oct. 30.—That Serbia will insist on access to the sea through a port of its own, one of course, which the Servians expect to take from Turkey, was semi-officially given out here today on the authority of the Belgrade government. Whether Austria likes it or not, it was added, the Servians will keep Uskub and all the territory about it back to the present Serbian frontier.

The impression in diplomatic circles was that the statement was issued to guide the powers in their discussion of plans for peaceful intervention in the Balkans.

ATHENS, Oct. 30.—The Greeks today expect to capture Vorrta. They were within a mile of the town yesterday. It is strongly fortified and a desperate Turkish resistance was expected. Today's dispatches made no mention of a battle, but it was believed there must have been one.

Vorrta is an extremely important town on the Salonika-Monastir railroad less than fifty miles west of the former city. It was predicted here that Salonika's capture would occur within a few hours. Speed is essential to the Greeks inasmuch as their invading force is poorly protected and cannot easily be resupplied by land and must secure possession of a port, like Salonika, where it can be provided for by sea.

VRANJE, Serbia, Oct. 30.—The Servians lost 400 killed and 2,000 wounded, and the Turks 16,000 killed at the recent battle of Kumanova, it was officially stated here today.

CHINESE COURTSHIP CELEBRATED HERE

Sixteen-Year-Old Girl Taken as Bride of Merchant of This City.

Tinged with a little Americanism, but essentially harking back to the quaint customs of China, a Chinese courtship conducted by parents culminated in Washington today when two Celestials were wedded by Christian rites.

It was the most marriage in the District in which the principals were both of Chinese descent.

An olive-eyed miss of sixteen, Chu How, daughter of a wealthy New York merchant, was the bride, while Lee Yow, who lives in Washington was the bridegroom.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. James B. Montgomery, pastor of the Metropolitan Methodist Church, at his home, 330 C street northwest, this afternoon. A typical Oriental reception will be held in the Capital's Ching-tsun tonight.

Fire in Closet.
A lighted match dropped in a clothes closet on the second floor caused a small fire this morning at the home of Elizabeth Young, 825 New Hampshire avenue northwest. The damage was $50.

WAR MAY PUT END TO CANAL DISPUTE

Belief Exists in Diplomatic Circles Here That England Is Too Much Concerned Over Balkan Situation to Press Tolls Claim.

It is a long way from the Balkans to the Panama canal, and at first glance there may seem to be little connection between the present upheaval in southern Europe and the canal tolls. Nevertheless, there is a relation close enough to cause a belief to obtain in well informed official quarters that England will not press her controversy with the United States over canal charges, but will conclude quietly to retreat.

The reason for this belief is that it is well understood in State Department and diplomatic circles that Great Britain has her hands full just now. The breaking out of war in the Balkans has served to emphasize these difficulties.

The advice here are that Great Britain is extremely nervous over the possibilities of the Balkan situation. The British government fears the effects of the firebrands which have been lighted beyond the Danube, and does not know how far the conflagration will spread.

War in the Balkans at once alarms England for her security in India and in Egypt. The subject populations of both these countries are restless, and it is hard to tell what the effect of the Balkan struggle will be on these peoples.

England Feared to Intervene.
Much wonderment has been expressed why the great powers of Europe have permitted the Balkan nations to go to war. For months, in fact, for many years, it has been plain that if the powers insisted they could compel Turkey to make effective the reforms promised for European Turkey in the Berlin convention that followed the war between Russia and Turkey in 1878. Recently, when it appeared that the people of the Balkan states were getting to the point where they would fight if their brethren under Turkish rule were not assured of more liberal treatment, the powers stepped in and forced Turkey to grant the concessions on which the Balkan states insisted. However, there was little concert of action among the powers. England hung off and seemed dubious about how to proceed.

The explanation given of this here is that England feared to take any hand in trying to force Turkey for the reason that she did not want to give offense to her millions of Mohammedan subjects in India and Egypt.

AVIATOR OF ARMY HAS NARROW ESCAPE

Lieutenant Graham Has Leak Sprung in Machine While at High Altitude.

Lieutenant Graham, of the army aviation corps, had a narrow escape from death today when flying at a high altitude in his Burgess-Wright aeroplane, a leak occurred in the gasoline feeder pipe, leading to his engine, and shut off the motive power.

By quick work he was able to fly to earth and neither the aviator nor his plane was injured. The flight was a practice flight.

Commissioners Hear Lawyers on License

Arguments for and against the revocation of the license of the Lyceum Theater were presented to the Commissioners at a hearing in the board room of the District Building today. The Commissioners reserved decision.

Appearing today as the representatives of the management, Attorney Charles W. Darr, Charles H. Knapp, of Baltimore, and James E. Laakey contended that the Commissioners are without authority to revoke the license, under a joint resolution of Congress, which provides that the license may be terminated "whenever it shall appear to the satisfaction of the board of commissioners that the licensee has failed to comply with such regulations as may be prescribed by said Commissioners for the public decency."

In this instance, it is claimed, due notice has not been given the management of the playhouse.

Attorney John B. Larner urged that the license be revoked on the ground that the filing with the management of a copy of the police regulations constitutes due notice.

Two Americans Die In Philippine Storm

Miss Beattie Lambert, of Illinois, and A. V. Menz were killed in the typhoon which swept the Philippine Islands a week ago Saturday, according to a cablegram received by the Bureau of Insular Affairs today. Both were Americans. Their addresses in this country are not known, nor has the Bureau any information regarding their relatives.

A. V. Menz was formerly captain of the "Consolidator."

No further information regarding the distribution of relief in the island of Cebu has reached the Bureau and it is supposed that the work of taking care of homeless natives is proceeding satisfactorily.

The unrest among these subjects is already great. The British government felt that to do anything to enhance it would be dangerous, perhaps suicidal.

England Is Apprehensive.
But while this was true on the one hand, on the other hand the course of the Balkan war up to this time is likewise such as to make England apprehensive. That Russia is quietly backing up the Balkan states is pretty clearly understood. It is the information both in diplomatic and in army circles here that the Bulgarian armies, now giving a good account of themselves, have been trained by Russian officers. Russians are said to be drifting over into Bulgaria and taking service in the Bulgarian army. And the sympathies of the Russian people are with the Balkan allies, most of whom are their brethren in race and religion.

To the extent that the formation of a Slav confederation in southeastern Europe might check the advance of Germany and Austria in that part of the world, England, as the matter is viewed here, is complacent about the success between Russia and the Mediterranean and Greeks against the Turks. But there is another side to it. To wedge in between Russia and the Balkan states a Slav nation, friendly to Russia, is not calculated to strengthen the hold of England on Persia and the region that is a buffer to India. That it is an advantage to Russia is apparent.

United States Beneficiary.
England is not the only nation of Europe that feels embarrassed and menaced by the storm of war raging almost at the gates of Constantinople. The belief here that the war will spread to some of the great nations is strong. At least, it is admitted on all hands that it will prove a terrific strain on European diplomacy. It so happens that because of the raising of the canal question by England, the course of diplomacy between that country and the United States is more likely to be affected by the storm in the Balkans than the Balkans than questions between the United States and other European countries.

However, it is likely that Germany will rot, under the circumstances, be extremely obnoxious in the treatment of American concerns and that the possibility that Russia will be in some degree more tractable over the passport question. American interests, in other words, are likely to get more fair consideration from the European nations when they have their hands full with troubles in other directions.

TRIO STARTS LONG HORSEBACK JOURNEY

Colonel Thompson Will Ride 275 Miles to Washington.

Col. Robert Means Thompson, of this city, started on a horseback ride of 275 miles from Hot Springs, Va., to the Capital this morning. Riding with him are Miss Kathleen Beresford and Miss Hilda Skyles, of London. His wife is accompanying the equine enthusiasts by automobile. The two English girls will accompany Colonel Thompson to Natural Bridge, or about one-third of the entire distance to Washington.

Major William E. Horton, of this city, rode with Frederick Ayer, of Boston, who is ninety-two years old, in a twenty-five mile jaunt on horseback from Hot Springs to Passapatan Farm and return yesterday.

Police Chief Warns Precincts About Reports

In orders issued to the captains of the police precincts today, Major Sylvester states that failure to promptly report to the central bureau all calamities will be regarded "as sufficient cause for reprimand in the conduct of the business."

"I have been advised," said the major, "that there have been delays in promptly conveying to the central bureau such matters. It is important that word of accidents and cases of more than ordinary importance should be promptly conveyed to headquarters in order that the officers at headquarters may know that investigation of emergencies are being made, that an intelligent application of the force in hand as far as may be justified after first report, might be had."

MASONS TO GREET TRIANGLE OF GOLD ON ITS TRAVELS

Reception Tonight One of Auspicious Events for Lodgemen.

Reception of the "Traveling Triangle" and the committee accompanying it, at tonight's meeting of Columbia Chapter, No. 1, Royal Arch Masons, will form one of the most auspicious events of the year in local circles of cryptic Masonry. Preceding the meeting, an elaborate banquet will be given.

The famous triangle originated in Toronto, Canada, where it was made by St. Patrick Chapter, No. 145. It has been started on a trip around the world, and in its course is to be deposited in at least one chapter of every grand jurisdiction. It is always accompanied by a committee from the last chapter with which it was deposited, who formally present it to the next. It has already passed through fifteen jurisdictions, and is brought here by a committee from Orange Chapter, No. 23, Orange, N. J.

The triangle is a perfect equilateral of solid gold, eight inches high, with the center of which is suspended by three golden chains, a pendant figure of St. Patrick, together with the seal, motto, and name of St. Patrick Chapter. When it has completed its long journey it will be returned to its starting place, accompanied by one member from every grand jurisdiction through which it has passed.

The formal reception will be made by William T. Hastings, high priest of Columbia, and will be replied to by the members of the committee accompanying the triangle. Members of St. Patrick Chapter will deliver the following, entitled addresses: "The Triangle," "How the Idea Was Conceived," "How the Triangle Was Procured and Launched," and "The Result Hoped For and What Can Now Be Said for a Record of Experience Acquired in This Way."

A closing address will be made by Rev. Earl Wilkie, pastor of the Vermont Avenue Christian Church, a member of Columbia Chapter. Several members of the District of Columbia Grand Chapter will be present and will make addresses.

The meeting will be followed by the serving of a buffet luncheon. The triangle will remain in the vaults of Columbia Chapter for a few weeks, when it will be escorted by a local committee to Richmond, Va.

Fire in Sanitarium Endangers Patients
LOUISVILLE, Ky., Oct. 30.—Fire broke out at 11 o'clock today in the Martinsville Sanitarium here. Patients were carried down ladders while others leaped into life nets.

It is feared there has been loss of life.

When Baby has Croup
Every Mother should know about Booth's HYOMEI.

In any home where a child has a tendency to croup, a bottle of HYOMEI (pronounce it High-o-mee) should be kept constantly on hand.

A sudden attack of croup with difficult breathing and extreme distress is apt to come on at any time.

The course to be pursued is plain. Send for Booth's HYOMEI at once, and in the meantime drop a drop of HYOMEI into a bowl of boiling water, and hold the child's head over it, cover with a towel or cloth, so that only the air filled with HYOMEI vapor is breathed.

Booth's HYOMEI is made of Australian Eucalyptus and other antiseptics. Money returned if it does not give satisfaction in treatment of croup, coughs, colds, croup and catarrhal deafness. Ask James O'Donnell about it.

NATIONAL SUPPORT PROMISED PLAN TO BOOM THE CAPITAL

Subscriptions Amount to $80 From Board of Trade.

Eighty dollars more were received this morning from members of the Board of Trade for the campaign to arouse popular interest throughout the country in the execution of plans of the McMillan Park Commission for the development of Washington, now being organized by President A. C. Moses, bringing the total subscriptions up to $250.

With the checks members are writing many letters commending the plan to wage a national campaign to get Congress to give the District Commissioners authority to buy such lands as are necessary to the park commission's scheme for a string of parks encircling the city whenever the Commissioners can get those lands at the most advantageous price, it was stated at the office of the Board of Trade today.

With only the publicity given to the project by the Washington newspapers thus far promise of national support is already forthcoming. President Moses has received a letter from the secretary of the Bay City, Mich., board of commerce, Justin A. Runyan, stating that Washington already has his support, and that he will send in contributions to the campaign yesterday, the following members responded today:
